

LUCKY

The Environment

- Hold a special environment show-and-tell. Ask students to talk about things they do at home that help the environment.
- Make a class list of of students' contributions to helping the environment. Discuss the effect on the environment if all the children around the world did one thing per day to protect it.
- Ask students to bring in some old pots filled with soil from home. Purchase some seeds from a nursery and plant them with your students to make their classroom more environmentally friendly.

Homework Project:

Ask students to assess their homes with a view to suggesting ways in which their families could be more environmentally friendly.
